

Back - WA-130-S

The holes closest to the outer edge fasten to the upper structural side and the inside holes fasten to the lower structural side. The array of holes allow for height adjustment for printing plastic and CNC function.

This is the back of the machine that provides rigidity along the y-axis.

